DAMAGE SUIT FILED

Complaints Allege Aggravated and Unprovoked Assault by Railway Employe.

Ogden, Dec. 12.-Asking for damages totalling $30,000, Walter F. and Thomas A. Reid, have started action in the district court against the Union Pacific railroad company, the Ogden Union Railway & Depot company and J. H. McIntyre, special agent of the railroad company. The complaints allege that on Dec. 3 of this year, the plaintiffs boarded a Union Pacific passenger train at Evanston, Wyo., paying the usua $2.30 fare each for transportation to Ogden. Upon alighting at the Union station, they allege that McIntyre, without the slightest provocation, set upor them with a "slung shot" and that he beat them unmercifully, calling them vile names and greatly humiliating them in the presence of a large number of persons. According to the complaint McIntyre charged them with assault and battery and on having a patrol wagon summoned, took them to the police station. On December 10, the charge brought by McIntyre was disgether with $5,000 punitive damages.

BELLIGERENT INDIVIDUALS LANDED IN BASTILE

Ogden, Dec. 12;—Mark Anderson, a Swede, who follows the vocation of a gambler, was escorted to the police station late Sunday afternoon by two companions, James A. Morgison and Ed. Fitzsimmons, who claim to be Southern Pacific watchmen, in a badly marred and drunken condition. Still clinging to a pint bottle of alcohol, Anderson resisted being locked in a cell and showed a determination to annihilate the entire police force. His companions. showed a determination to annihilate the entire police force. His companions, both under the influence of liquor, bore numerous scratches and cuts and told the desk sergeant that they were endeavoring to take Anderson home when he suddenly decided to resist and in the rough and tumble fight which followed, they were all badly beaten up. The officers state that passers-by saw the alleged watchmen draw guns on Anderson and on being scarched, it was found that they each carried a ristol. The guns were held by the police, and all three men will be given an opportunity to explain the matter before Judge Murphy.

VINCENT LIQUOR CASES. Provo, Dec. 12 .- The case of Provo City vs. Henry Vincent, charged with selling beer to Alga Rhodes in violation of the prohibition ordinance, which was set for Saturday went over till to-day. A proposition of compromise was made by Vincent, and considered by the mayor and city attorney. It was the mayor and city attorney. It was for Vincent to pay the city $400 and for the city to drop the three cases in which Vincent is now charged with selling beer, as well as the case which Vincent has appealed, in which he was convicted in the justice's court and fined $250, and sentence to 30 days' imprisonment. In addition to paying the $400 to square the cases Vincent offered to give a bond, guaranteeing that he o give a bond, guaranteeing that he would stop the liquor business. The city, however, wanted $500, and this Vincent refused to pay. As it was late before it was found an agreement could not be reached, and as defendant demanded a jury trial, the case went over till today at 10 o'clock.

The compromise was finally effected this morning, the figure being fixed at

The Christmas Piano Should Be a PIANOLA PIANO

People do not buy fine paintings and then hang them where they cannot be seen. Neither do people buy books printed in a language that they do not understand. Why, then, should they buy pianos which they cannot play?

If you are thinking of buying a piano for Christmas, or making a present of one, surely the piano that is always a real musical instrument and never simply an ornament is the one to puy.

PIANOLA Pianos are to be obtained in Utah only at Carstensen & Anson Co.'s. They comprise not only "the Standard Piano Player of
